Khalifa Library receives university Professors from Algeria

Khalifa Library, in collaboration with the College of Communication and Media represented by Dr. Abdullah Kaba, the library director, and Dr. Rahima Aissani, the Dean of the College of Communication and Media, received a delegation of university professors from Algeria. During their visit, they were introduced to the library's resources, services, and facilities, as well as the books and references available in the library. This visit aims to strengthen the relationships between academics from different countries and enhance interaction with the community, contributing to the development of knowledge and culture.
