Jun 24, 2026

Al Ain University Ranks 84th Worldwide in THE Sustainability Impact Ratings 2026

Al Ain University has achieved a new global milestone by ranking 84th worldwide in the Times Higher Education Sustainability Impact Ratings 2026, reaffirming its strong commitment to supporting the Sustainable Development Goals and strengthening its impact in education, scientific research, and community service.

This ranking reflects Al Ain University's advanced international standing and its continuous efforts to adopt sustainable practices and develop an educational and research environment that contributes to creating a tangible positive impact, in line with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals.

Al Ain University also demonstrated outstanding performance in three Sustainable Development Goals, including SDG 4: Quality Education, through supporting inclusive and quality learning for all; SDG 8: Decent Work and Economic Growth, through promoting employment opportunities and sustainable growth; and SDG 10: Reduced Inequalities, through empowering individuals and supporting equal opportunities.

This achievement reaffirms Al Ain University's commitment to continuously developing its academic, research, and community initiatives, while strengthening its role as an active higher education institution that supports sustainability, enhances the quality of education, and builds partnerships that contribute to sustainable development locally and globally.

The university’s achievement in this global ranking also reflects its ongoing efforts to connect education with societal impact and to employ scientific research and innovation in addressing development challenges, further enhancing its international presence among higher education institutions with sustainable impact.

Press Release Link