Copyright Policy

INTRODUCTION

As a non-profit and academic organization, the AAU exists to advance knowledge through research, to disseminate knowledge through teaching, and to provide services to its community for continued learning. Therefore, reproductions of information resources made for patrons with university identification can be assumed to be for fair use and non-commercial purposes. The Library collections contain scholarly materials intended for the academic community and as such are of a nature most appropriate to claims for fair use.

PURPOSE OF POLICY

This policy is intended to serve as an in-house guide concerning the reproduction of library materials in Al-Ain University Libraries, in accordance with the UAE federal Law No. (7) of the year 2002, concerning copyrights and neighboring rights.

LIABILITY OF LIBRARY EMPLOYEES

Unsupervised Reproduction: .1

Liability for copyright infringement may not be imposed on a library or its employees for unsupervised use of reproducing equipment located on its premises, provided that such equipment displays making copies may be subject to copyright law.a notice that

Supervised Reproduction: .2

Libraries units will review this policy and determine that they are not in violation of copyright law before requesting that copies be made. The Photocopy Center shall use this policy to review requests from other university departments and personnel.

POLICIES

Copy Services

It shall be the responsibility of AAU Libraries to review all photocopy requests for copyright compliance before submitting material to Photocopy Center. Therefore, libraries' requests received by Photocopy Center will be assumed to be in compliance with Libraries' copyright policy and will be filled accordingly.

Photocopy Center staff will consider AAU University patron requests for photocopies to be permissible as fair use, provided that the following criteria are met:

- Use is academic in nature, for non-profit, educational purposes.
- Purpose is to make material available for study at patron's convenience.
- Request is for a single copy of one original, as opposed to multiple copies of the same original.

RESERVES

At the request of a faculty member, photocopies of articles or chapters of books may be placed on reserve. Under the guidelines of the UAE copyright law No. (7) of the year 2002, photocopies of these materials may be made without requiring permission from the copyright owner.

Material that has been photocopied by the libraries for the express purpose of being put on reserve will be the property of the libraries and will be retained for a specified period of time. If the material has not been requested during that time, it will be destroyed.

DOCUMENT DELIVERY

AAU Libraries Circulation Departments adhere to the fair use guidelines in providing photocopies to AAU University community. In line with the guidelines, Circulation Departments will provide an individual member with one copy of any article(s) or chapter(s) needed from a publication.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN

AAU Libraries endeavor to provide maximum participation in the interlibrary loan process for both AAU users and for other libraries that ask us to provide materials to fill their users' requests. At the same time, the libraries attempt to follow the guidelines as mentioned in the UAE copyright law.

Borrowing: .1

All requests for materials not available in the AAU libraries should be referred directly to the Circulation Department to determine whether such requests can be met. The Circulation Department will make every attempt to obtain material not owned by AAU libraries but needed by eligible AAU users without violating copyright law.

Lending: .2

we will respond to any request for a photocopy of an article as long as copyright compliance is indicated by the requesting library. We will assume that the requesting library is taking responsibility for both the nature and the amount of the material it is requesting.

In the case of requests for dissertations and theses done at the AAU, the .3 Circulation Departments will lend non-archival copies of these materials. If a requesting library wishes to purchase copies of dissertations or theses done, the Circulation Departments will direct the requesting library to purchase the material from the University.

PRESERVATION

According to UAE copyright law No. (7), libraries and archives are permitted to take a sole copy of a work for the purpose of preservation. AAU libraries will observe the following conditions before reproducing library materials for preservation purposes:

- The material comes from collections that are open to the public.
- Reproduction is made with no purpose of commercial advantage.
- Notice of copyright is included in the reproduction.
- For published works not in the public domain, a suitable replacement at a fair price will be sought, and reproduction undertaken only if an acceptable replacement is unavailable.

NON-BOOK MATERIALS

AAU libraries follow general copyright policy for all non-book items except under the special circumstances noted below.

Video/Film/Sound Recordings .1

1. Complete copyrighted works or substantial portions will not be duplicated. If the material is out of print or no longer available at a fair price, duplication is allowed. Duplication is also allowed in accordance with numbers 2 and 3 below.
 - Portions of commercially acquired copyrighted works may be copied for instructional purposes. The amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole must be considered in determining whether the use of the excerpt constitutes fair use. Excerpt tapes (video/audio) produced by the AAU libraries are the property of AAU libraries and must be returned after class use.

Computer Software .2

The term computer software applies to all software for microcomputers, minicomputers, or any other device, and includes the software documentation. AAU libraries will make a backup copy of any software it has purchased. The original then serves as the archive copy, while the backup copy becomes the service copy.

LICENSE AGREEMENTS

When a product acquired by AAU libraries is accompanied by a license agreement (particularly when signatures are required), it should be clearly understood that the AAU libraries, in most instances, are not acquiring ownership of the material but are instead acquiring only the rights, as set forth in the terms of the license agreement, to use the product.

Terms set in license agreements are those of the publisher or distributor. AAU libraries are not required to accept these terms as stated but can instead negotiate mutually acceptable terms with the publisher and distributor. If a license agreement cannot be mutually agreed upon and the libraries cannot abide by the terms set forth, the only option is not to acquire the product.

Textbooks updating Policy

DEFINITIONS

Al Ain University AAU:

PURPOSE

This policy on textbooks availability and updating applies to all AAU students.

The purpose of the policy has two objectives:

- To ensure that textbooks are available for students and faculty, and
- To ensure that textbooks are regularly updated and latest editions are always used.

SCOPE

Textbooks for courses offered by AAU

STATEMENT

AAU is committed to ensure that textbooks are available and the latest editions are being used. Textbooks are vital component of the learning process. AAU ensures that textbooks for all offered courses are always available in the library as well as in the Book store. Updated lists of textbooks relevant to the courses should be prepared by departments/colleges on regular basis. Students' feedback is also taken into consideration. The lists are expected to be submitted to the library manager before the end of the academic year. The administrative unit orders textbooks from the publishers and make them available by the beginning of each semester.

PROCEDURES

This policy covers all textbooks for AAU courses. To ensure the availability of the latest textbooks, the following administrative Procedures are considered:

- Faculty members are expected to select the appropriate textbook for their courses. •
- It is expected that the departments would review, update, and approve the list of textbooks for the department courses. •
- The administrative unit orders the approved list of textbooks from publishers. •
- Textbooks are received at the beginning of each semester. •
- Copies of textbooks are made available in the library for student use. •
- Textbooks are regularly updated by faculty members taking into consideration the latest publications in their specialization. •
- Latest editions should be used. •

refers to the items that can be viewed library staff but not the users Shadow Item:

PURPOSE

In compliance with the AAU Vision and Mission, it is necessary to establish a Weeding Policy. The purpose of this policy is to define a step-by-step procedure of item withdrawal accompanied by a list of criteria to assist in decision making. It also aims to provide justification for the permanent removal of materials from the library collection.

SCOPE

This policy applies to all users of AAU Libraries in Abu Dhabi and Al Ain.

STATEMENT

For any type of library, the weeding or withdrawal process is an important part of its collection management. Regular withdrawal of damaged, outdated, duplicate materials or items in poor condition helps libraries maintain up-to-date, attractive looking collections, and save space and time for researchers and library staff alike. Weeding activities help reduce cluttered and over stacked shelves. For an academic library, whose main mission is to support its parent institution's curriculum, it is important not only to purchase new materials, but also to get rid of publications that are out of date or are no longer required by the disciplines taught at the university. Relevancy and timeliness of information are especially vital for certain disciplines, such as health sciences and engineering. The AAU librarians in collaboration with colleges apply their expertise and knowledge to the evaluation of library materials and to the weeding decisions.

PROCEDURES

AAU Libraries use several methods for weeding materials:

On-going Weeding:

- This method provides weeding opportunities as a result of an immediate issue or problem with the material(s) in question such as:
 - New editions are purchased, selectors are prompted to make decisions about retaining or withdrawing older editions.
 - Items in poor condition or missing pieces that are returned to the Circulation Desk are routed to the Head of Technical Services for a decision about replacement, rebinding, repair or withdrawal, with input by subject specialists.
 - Items that are declared lost (either through Circulation routines or stacks inventory) are routed to the Head of Technical Services for possible replacement, with input by subject specialists.

Systematic Weeding Projects:

These methods require preliminary work from the library staff and typically involve larger amounts of materials from individual areas of the collection. •

Thus, these methods are project-level and are more likely to involve broader librarians and faculty involvement. Special formats may require additional consideration beyond the methods listed below.

Multiple copies or multiple formats that are no longer necessary should be withdrawn. For instance, a project to weed duplicated materials, as well as individually weeding print book titles that have been replaced by an electronic book format. In addition, as formats for audiovisual materials change, the library may weed the older format (e.g. VHS videotapes weeded in favor of DVDs). •

Subject areas are examined by subject specialists for research value within the subject area. Typically, this type of weeding removes outdated, inaccurate or irrelevant material and is closely aligned with usage, age of publication, and checkout statistics. For example, it includes weeding in Law (LC Class #K), Social Sciences – General, Statistics, Economic Theory (LC Class #H-HB), and Psychology (LC Class #BF). More general subject area weeding occurs in Reference and Government Documents on an annual basis. •

Periodically, AAU libraries conduct serials review to make sure that the libraries are providing faculty and students with the materials that are needed for teaching, learning, and scientific research. While the purpose of this review is not strictly cancellation, it is important to make sure that resources for serials are devoted to materials that are essential to the university community. In cases of cancellation as part of a serials review, the libraries should traditionally withdraw retrospective print serial holdings from the collection. •

Back issues of periodicals will be bound and stored in open stacks. Issues are subject to withdrawal or removal to storage under the same conditions as other materials but will normally be retained. Newspapers will be retained for three months in their original printed form. •

Procedures for Systematic Weeding of Multiple Copies or in Subject Areas •

Preliminary work must typically be completed by library staff prior to removing titles from the collection. This work includes informing relevant college of the proposed project; gathering library statistics related to age, duplication, and/or circulation of items; and pinpointing titles in poor condition. •

- Library Management System, Symphony, can be used to create lists that indicate multiple copies or publication dates, etc. Just about anything in the bibliographic and item records can be used to create a weeding list. The list can then be used in print or electronic format to guide the weeding project with call numbers, titles, etc.
- Selecting a publication date cut-off as weeding criteria help library staff to avoid future issues (e.g. withdrawing older material that has just recently been added). Due to the commitment of the Library to purchasing titles for long-term scholarly pursuit, weeding should not include items published within the past ten years, with few exceptions.
- Library staff should determine how s/he will mark or situate each item selected for weeding so that it can be reviewed by the concerned college. The staff will also need to indicate to the college representative how they may remove a title from the weeding project.
- Librarians will have to determine the duration of college review for materials to be weeded. Typically, a large weeding project in a subject area should allow faculty at least one term for review.
- After candidates for weeding are pinpointed, librarians should keep faculty informed about the schedule for the weeding project.
- Once the weeding deadline has been met, librarian will notify Library Director or Supervisor regarding the approximate number of titles and copies that will be weeded (as a courtesy for workflow considerations).
- The Library Director or supervisor will send the final report to the President for approval
- In his turn, the President will discuss it in the Dean Council
- Upon approval of the Dean Council, library staff will:
 - Change item location to "Withdrawn from the Collection", and select:
 - "Shadow title" if the entire items under that title are withdrawn
 - or "Shadow item" if an individual item is withdrawn, then
 - Remove the materials from shelves.
- All items withdrawn will be sent temporary to the library main store.
- Withdrawn materials may be demolished or distributed to other libraries, school libraries, individuals or institutions as gifts.
